YORU ZEN - Find Your Own Zen

Canon Imaging Project with Cultural Properties

Kenninji Temple in Kyoto carries a lot of valuable cultural properties.

Canon innovative imaging technology depicts reverence and coexistence for nature.

This is a special exhibit only available during this event in Kyoto at night.

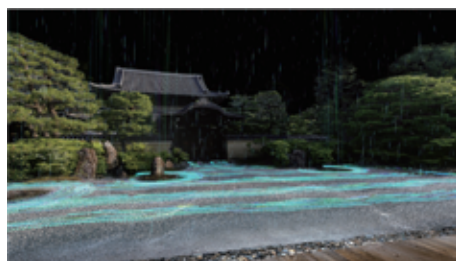

Kenninji

A historic Zen temple in Kyoto and the head temple of the Kenninji school of the Rinzai sect. It was founded by Zen master Yosai, who introduced Rinzai sect from China to Japan. The temple was constructed in 1202 during the Kamakura period and was named after the era of the time. 800 years later, it is still widely regarded as a Zen training hall.

Projection Mapping

Projection mapping onto the national treasure, "Wind God and Thunder God" *. Prayers for a bountiful harvest merge with the Japanese respect for nature. *high resolution facsimiles

Mixed Reality

MR(Mixed Reality) experience at The Daio-en, or Grand Japanese Garden. Each of you views the same landscape, but sees differently.

*Under age 16 years are not allowed to experience.

Augmented Reality

Twin dragons painted on the ceiling of the Dharma Hall appears close to you in AR(Augmented Reality). As the guardians of Buddhism, they ask what "as it is" means.
